

PHS-Funded Project Financial Interests Report

submitted pursuant to the requirements of Lehigh University's Policy on Disclosure of Investigator Significant Financial Interests Related to Sponsored Projects and Addendum for Public Health Service (PHS) Funded Projects

Federal regulations require that greater disclosures of potential financial conflicts of interest be made to the University and the PHS when an "Investigator" (key personnel named in the proposal or award and anyone responsible, fully or in part, for the design, conduct or reporting of the research) participates in PHS-funded research than in most other sponsored research contexts. University compliance with these rules is a condition for submitting applications for, or accepting PHS funding. These disclosure rules also apply to other agencies that require compliance with PHS requirements. Notably, PHS rules require the University, not the Investigator, to make the initial judgment as to whether there is a significant financial conflict of interest as defined by PHS. For that purpose, the University must collect information regarding any sources of income and holdings (subject to a threshold of $5,000 in any 12 month period), as well as any relationships that could reasonably be perceived as affecting your conduct of any of your responsibilities at Lehigh.

The Director of the Office of Research and Sponsored Programs and the Director of Internal Audit will review your responses. Should it be determined that there is a significant financial conflict of interest as defined by the PHS regulations, the conflict will be managed per University policies on conflicts of interest. In addition to required reporting to PHS, PHS rules require the University to disclose certain information about the nature of any PHS-defined significant financial conflicts of interest in response to a specific request for this information from a member of the public.

Each Investigator proposing to participate in PHS-funded research, or research funded by any sponsor requiring compliance with PHS rules on financial conflicts of interest, must complete this form as part of the Office of Research and Sponsored Program's internal proposal process and must continue to do so at least annually during the period of the PHS award.

A revised copy of this form must be submitted within 30 days of any change in your answers to the questions below, or to the supporting details.
